

Intro to Bird-Friendly Gardening

Join us for this free Virtual Workshop as part of our Birds, Brews, & Books native plant event

Thursday, September 9, 7-8:30pm

Learn how to transform your home, school, work, or community space into a bird and butterfly paradise. Audubon experts will share practical tips and scientific support for gardening with native plants. Explore the resources you need to beautify your outdoor space and attract birds, pollinators, and other beneficial wildlife!

Erin Reed Miller is the Education Manager at Patterson Park Audubon Center in Baltimore. She has her BS in Wildlife Conservation and MS in Wildlife Ecology from the University of Delaware where she researched the connection between native plant species and insects with Dr. Doug Tallamy, author of Bringing Nature Home. Erin helps connect neighbors of all ages and backgrounds with nature in ways that are meaningful to them and works to increase bird-friendly habitat across the region. In 2016, Erin was named the Tamar Chotzen Audubon Educator of the Year.
